Emotional Stability Goal Of Mental Health Seminar

"A parent has the potential to gain what is without a doubt the highest satisfaction a human being can enjoy—the gratification of guiding and nurturing the development of a child into an emotionally stable and mature young man or woman."

"There is no greater reward for the adult; there is no greater gift to the child."

Thus Dr. Richard A.

Planoite Receives Ribbon

Airman First Class Larry L. Crane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayfael E. Crane of Plano, is now wearing a distinctive service ribbon as a member of an organization which recently received the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Airman Crane is an electrical power production specialist at Little Rock AFB, Ark., with the 314th Tactical Airlift Wing that earned the award for meritorious service from January 1, 1975 to June 30, 1976.

The airman is a 1973 graduate of North Garland High School.

Gardner, a child psychiatrist and leading authority in the field of parenting, concluded his book "Understanding Children" which he wrote as a guidebook for parents.

Dr. Gardner will be the speaker at a "Conference on Parenting" to be held in Dallas Wednesday, October 12.

The Mental Health Association of Dallas County is sponsoring the conference, which is to help parents and prospective parents from a wide socio-economic spectrum guide the development of their children to emotional maturity.

During the day-long conference which will be held at the Marriott Hotel on Stemmons Freeway, Dr. Gardner will concentrate his discussions on the following subjects:

Parents and the Educational System—Dr. Gardner says "there are recent trends that are helpful to children in the learning process but others that impede" and he plans to tell parents what they can do about it.

The Two Parent, One Parent and Blended Family—which will include "clues for raising children in a two parent family and the role of each parent" as well as the "special problems and ways to deal with them" of a single parent or parents of two families blended by remarriage.

Anger and its problems—the functions, uses and disuses between adults, parents toward child, child toward parent and between children.

Reward, discipline and punishment—when each is advisable.

What is normal, what is psychological health.

These and other phases of child-parent relationships will also be discussed during the lunch hour by small groups of those attending the conference. Conferencees are being asked to select subjects most interesting to them, and they will be assigned to specific tables where a professional or para-professional will be present to facilitate the discussions.

Cost of the conference is five dollars, which includes lunch.

The conference is being held with the aid of grants from the Junior League of Dallas, Inc., and the State Department of Human Resources.

For further information or registration, please contact the Mental Health Association, 2500 Maple Avenue, Dallas, 75201, telephone 748-7825.

Photog Clough Teaching Class

Developing one's own photographic style will be stressed in a course beginning Oct. 25 at The University of Texas at Dallas Center for Continuing Education.

Taught by Bill Clough, 18-year veteran of magazine and newspaper photography, "Photographic Communication-Composition" will be a lecture and theory class on how the camera is used to effectively communicate. An analysis of works by photographers W. Eugene Smith, Henri Cartier-Bresson, J. H. Lartique and Robert Capa will be included.

"Almost anyone can shoot technically good pictures with today's inexpensive and automatic cameras," Clough explained. "Developing an effective style is the key. Students will be able to better develop their own style by studying styles of renowned photographers."

Clough, an advanced photo instructor at Mountain View College and currently teaching his third continuing education course at UT-Dallas, recommends that any student interested in his course have basic photographic knowledge.

The class will meet on Tuesdays from Oct. 25-Nov. 22 from 7-10 p.m. Course fee is $40. Additional information may be obtained by calling the UT-Dallas Center for Continuing Education at 690-2204.

Previous surveys showed that expenditures for the upkeep and improvement of residential properties in the United States for the first quarter of 1977 totaled $5.9 billion, or $30.9 billion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate. During 1976, the seasonally adjusted annual rate ranged from $25.3 to $31.0 billion.

Questions will also be asked about trips of 75 miles or more taken since the July interview. These questions are part of the 1977 National Travel Survey.

This survey, conducted every five years as part of the Census of Transportation, seeks information on the number of trips taken by U.S. households, the destination and purpose of these trips, the modes of transportation used on the trips, and types of lodging stayed in during the trips.

The information collected in this survey is used by both government and private organizations to determine the impact of the travel industry on the economy and to provide data on travel patterns that can be used to improve transportation facilities.

The law requires that personal information reported to the Bureau of the Census must be held in strictest confidence. Published reports show statistical totals only, and no information identifying individuals or households is released.

Salad Safe

Ginger Ray, owner of the Safecracker Restaurant in Palisades Square in Plano, checks the bank vault that will contain the restaurant's salad bar. Ready to operate the door is William L. Hamm, president of Hunt Properties, Inc., developers of Palisades Square. Located at North Central Expressway and West 15th Street, The Safecracker in Palisades Square will open in mid-fall in quarters originally occupied by Plano Bank & Trust.

Safecracker Uses Real Safe

The Safecracker, a new restaurant featuring steaks, seafood, tenderloin and Southern foods, will open this fall in Palisades Square, located in Plano at North Central Expressway and West Fifteenth Street, announces William L. Hamm, president of Hunt Properties, Inc.

The new, 130-seat restaurant is located in quarters formerly occupied by Plano Bank & Trust. It will be owned by Benny and Ginger Ray of Plano and Ginger Ray will operate the restaurant.

Hunt Properties, Inc., owns and manages Palisades Square, which is a mall type center with over 100,000 square feet of space. The theme of the restaurant will be patterned after the bank which originally occupied the space.

"The vault and time-locked door are still in place, and will be the location of our elaborate salad bar," Mrs. Ray explained. "We will keep the distinguished, dark wood paneling the bank used, and turn three bank officers' offices and a meeting room into private dining rooms. "White china, clear crystal, light blue table cloths, and a patterned carpet will provide an elegant but informal feeling to the restaurant," she continued.

The Safecracker is located at the extreme north end of the center, which was the first suburban type center in Plano and is the only one with an air conditioned mall.

Other foods to be featured at The Safecracker will include soups, stew, chili, breads and pastries prepared in the restaurants own kitchen. Barbecued shrimp, crab claws and hamburgers will also be offered.

Southern foods to be served at the full service restaurant will include chicken fried steak, fried chicken and accompanying dishes.

The Safecracker plans a 40-seat private club area, pending approval by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission. The City of Plano has already approved the club. The restaurant will be open for both luncheon and dinner. Mrs. Ray, and her husband, Benny, are both natives of McKinney, and have lived in Plano for 11 years. Their two children attend schools here, and the family resides in west Plano.

Proper Winter Care Makes Summer Cacti Bloom Well

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Wondering why your cactus didn't bloom this summer? Blame it on what you did last winter.

"The dormancy during the winter, that's the trick to making a cactus form buds and flower," says Betty Demzik, an officer of the Henry Shaw Cactus Society.

The society was founded in 1942 and named for the father of the Missouri Botanical Garden.

"Usually from October through March you should keep them cool, give them good light and little if any water. A southern or western exposure to light is best, and keep them between 45 and 50 degrees and withhold the water. It should bloom if you treat it right in the winter.

The best rule for watering is: When in doubt, don't."

Cacti at one time were considered by many persons as spiny, ugly plants found only in the barren areas of the southwest United States and Mexico. In recent years their popularity has grown markedly with clubs forming throughout the nation, and many household gardeners turning from foliage plants to cacti and succulents.

"They've come into their own because people realize the beauty of the spine formation and the flowering," Mrs. Demzik said. "Our club has over 200 members, and there's probably 30 to 35 such clubs around the nation."

"The National Association of Cactus Growers had its annual convention last May in Tucson and attracted people from all over the world."

Mrs. Demzik said she was "great with plastic plants until I came onto cacti." She said one advantage to growing cactus is the hardness of the plant.

She said the best soil mixture for cacti is about equal parts of ordinary potting soil and coarse sand and gravel to allow for a gritty texture that drains well.

Colors Vary In Hydrangea

Many homeowners continue to be interested in getting good blue or pink color in their hydrangea flowers, says James R. Risinger, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Actually, no single method will give satisfactory results every time. First you must consider the variety. Only the common florist or French hydrangea has the ability to change color. Even here there is considerable variation within the species in regard to the quality of color, and sometimes no amount of soil manipulation will induce the white hydrangeas to change color.

One must have a knowledge of the flower's growth habit to provide the proper environment for the desired color. The florist hydrangea forms its flower buds in late fall after the night temperature drops below 65 degrees F.

Flower buds are usually formed at the branch terminals. Any pruning needed must be done as soon as plants finish flowering and before new buds are initiated. In most years flower buds will be able to withstand winter temperatures without protection, except in the Panhandle area.

Flower color is controlled by the amount of aluminum that is available to the plant, points out the county agent. Almost all soils have ample amounts of aluminum, but unless the soil pH is low (acidic) the aluminum is in a form unavailable to the plant.

To produce blue plants, maintain a soil pH of 5.5 or lower. In alkaline soils or soils that are high in phosphorus, apply a 2-1/2 percent solution of aluminum sulfate every two weeks after growth starts in spring until flowers start to show color. Dissolve one pound of aluminum sulfate in five gallons of water and apply to the soil, using about one gallon of solution per plant every two weeks.

In highly alkaline soils it may be impossible to get a good clear blue unless hydrangeas are grown in containers where soil and water can be more easily controlled. Supply nitrogen in the form of ammonium sulfate as an aid in keeping the soil acid.

For pink flowers, use fertilizers having ample phosphorus and keep the soil pH at 6.5 or higher (alkaline). If the soil is naturally acid, apply limestone to raise the pH of the soil.

If the soil pH is allowed to fluctuate too much during the spring growing season, flowers can become a rather muddy or pinkish blue.

For distinct blue flowers, remember to keep the soil acid, keep the phosphorus levels low, and apply nitrogen in the form of ammonium sulfate. If pink flowers are wanted, keep soil neutral to slightly alkaline and use a complete fertilizer containing rather high amounts of phosphorus.

Remember that hydrangeas need plenty of moisture during the growing season to produce large attractive flowers and large leaves. If soil is allowed to become too alkaline, the iron in the soil becomes insoluble and plants will be chlorotic.

Farmers Must Consider Factors Before Planting

For a Texas farmer, deciding what and how much to produce is no simple decision, says James R. Risinger, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nowadays any farmer who wants to make a profit has to take a lot of things into consideration before making any decisions. He must analyze not only the market situation in the U.S., but the market outlook in the world and how it will affect whatever crop or crops he intends to produce.

For example, before a wheat producer plants his crop, he should look at the current and projected prices of grain in the U.S. and the world. What price can he expect at harvest time? How much grain is being consumed in the U.S.?

The world? Are world grain stocks high or low? Will foreign countries be producing more or less grain? Is the export potential for grain good or bad?

Other things producers should consider when making production decisions include long-range weather forecasts, the projected world birth rate and the possible effects of government programs on market conditions.

Only when a producer has analyzed all relevant information can he make wise management decisions on crop production, says the county agent. Then he can estimate how much it will cost to produce the crop and how much profit he can expect.

Decisions must also be made on various cultural practices, such as the use of fertilizer and herbicides, when and how to market the crop, and whether or not to use forward or futures contracts.

To make the best decisions in all these cases, Risinger points out the necessity for keeping good production and cash flow records.

Without good records, farmers are just "shooting in the dark" in making management decisions, he said. Records of past years will hopefully reflect where improvements can be made. And cash flow records are essential for establishing a good credit rating. Credit agencies often place a lot of emphasis on accurate cash flow records when granting loans.

Sound management decisions backed by good records are vital to a successful farming operation.

The kids have been home all summer. The area around the porch step has been "home" for the games of hide and seek, but the grass has all left "home."

And in the corner of the yard that nice dirt with lots of clay has been mixed with water many times to make wonderful mushy mud.

Now all that is left is some hand prints baked rock hard by the summer sun. It's time for a lawn fix up and doing it now will give better results than if you put the job off 'til Spring.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has a new factsheet with tips for renovating your lawn or starting a new one. For your free copy of Fall Lawn Care, send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 680, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

If you have lots of weekends, now is the time for weed killer. Apply 2, 4-D to kill broadleaf weeds, and DSMA or MSM to get rid of crabgrass. They're available at hardware stores and garden shops. Do this two to three weeks before you plant the new grass.

If you haven't put any lime on your lawn for four to six years, apply 50 to 75 pounds per 1,000 square feet of lawn.

At the same time, spread ten to fifteen pounds of fertilizer per thousand square feet now, and again in October. This will help the lawn develop strong roots even though the grass itself has almost stopped growing.

When you are ready to plant the seed, loosen the soil in the bare spots and work some organic material like peat moss into it. Seed perennial grass, such as bluegrass and red fescue, in bare areas and rake it in lightly. Keep the soil moist until the seedlings are well established. This may require watering the area a couple of times a day.

And while you're renovating, don't ignore the rest of the lawn. Keep the grass cut, but not too short. Bluegrasses should be cut no shorter than one-and-a-half inches, and bent grasses no less than three-quarters of an inch.

Don't let the lawn get too long between mowings. Cutting off more than half of the leaf area can do damage. And you should continue to mow the lawn until it stops growing for the winter.

Permitting grass to stay long during the winter months may smother the grass, and give insects and lawn diseases a place to hide.

If you are starting a lawn from scratch, dig up the whole area and add organic material. Spread ground limestone and superphosphate and mix it in. Then grade it so there won't be any spots where water can collect. A gentle slope away from the house is best. Rake it several times and before the final raking add fer-

Spread half the grass seed from east to west and the other half north to south to make sure you cover every spot. Rake lightly, roll lightly, and water. Be sure the seedlings stay moist until the lawn is established.

And there you have it—instant lawn, almost.

Choosing Firewood Difficult

There's something pretty special about having a fireplace—and as cool weather comes along you'll want to be ready for the warmth and good feelings that a fire in the fireplace can give you.

If your fireplace is a new addition to your family, you'll need to know where you can get good firewood, what to buy, and what safety measures you should follow. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has a booklet that can help you out. For your copy of "Firewood For Your Fireplace," send 35 cents to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 130E, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

You can get firewood from dumps and landfills. Sometimes as much as 30 percent of the debris in some town and city dumps consists of reusable wood fibers, including the logs, limbs, and tops of trees toppled by storms.

Sound management decisions backed by good records are vital to a successful farming operation.

at places such as sawmills and lumber companies. And, if you live near a National Forest, check with the Forest Ranger or county extension agent to see if there's firewood there for you.

If you have to buy logs for your fireplace, you'll find they're sold in different lengths and thicknesses. What you buy depends, of course, on the size of your fireplace, and how long you want to take to get your fire going.

Most wood won't burn if it's freshly cut, so purchase wood that is reasonably dry, or "seasoned." The surest way of having dry wood is to purchase it several months before you'll use it.

Choosing the kind of wood for your fireplace can be as individualistic as choosing a wine or cheese. Each kind of wood can give you something different in aroma or heat value.

Softwoods like pine, spruce, and fir, will catch fire easily and will burn rapidly with a hot flame. Since a fire made entirely of softwoods will burn out quickly, it requires frequent attention and replenishment. This is the kind of wood to use if you want a quick warming fire or a short fire that will burn out before you go to bed or before you step out for the evening.

For a long lasting fire it's best to use the hardwoods such as ash, beech, birch, maple, and oak. These burn less vigorously than softwoods and with a shorter flame. Oak gives the most uniform and shortest flames and will give you steady, glowing coals.

If it's aroma you're looking for, you'll want the woods of fruit trees, such as apple and cherry, and nut trees such as beech, hickory and pecan.

By mixing softwoods with hardwoods, you can achieve an easily lit fire.

Before you light the fire, make sure the room is well ventilated, the damper open, and the flue unobstructed. Poor ventilation will cause the fire to smoke. Avoid burning wet or green wood. And always place screen in front of your grate to catch any sparks that fly.

You can get free copy of "Firewood For Your Fireplace" by sending a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009. It is one of over 200 selected federal consumer publications listed in the fall edition of the "Consumer Catalog."

Start Planting

Now for Fall

Fall vegetables, particularly lettuce, carrots, beets, radishes, broccoli, cabbage, brussels sprouts, greens and onions can all be planted now.

Plant new lawns prior to September 15, particularly if you're using St. Augustine sprigs or sod. Current thinking is that the new Floratam St. Augustine is especially tender and should not be planted at all this late in the season.

Container-grown nursery stock is an excellent choice this time of year. Planted now it should be well established prior to frost.

Sow spring flowering seeds indoors now for later potting and subsequent planting outdoors. Included should be pinks, pansies, snapdragons, alyssum, wallflowers and others.

Make final applications of nitrogen fertilizers to your lawn, shrubs and shade trees prior to mid-September. Continue feeding fall gardens for most rapid growth and development.

Spray for the following: grub worms, diazinon, dursban; chinch bugs, diazinon, trithion, ethion; elm leaf beetle, sevin on 25-35 day interval; leaf rollers, dimethoate; black spot on roses, benomyl, phaltan; lace bugs, diazinon or malathion; powdery mildew, Acti-dione PM, benomyl, karathane; caterpillars, asps, etc., sevin; red spider mites, kelthane; tent caterpillars, sevin with spreader; sticker surfactant; and aphids, malathion or diazinon.

This late in the growing season spraying may not be entirely needed or beneficial for two reasons. Plants have completed most of their growth. Spraying may not really help all that much.

Also it's difficult to distinguish pathological problems from those strictly cultural. Hot weather is responsible for many plant problems at this point in the season. Spraying obviously would not be a help.

Vines Viking Sophs Dropped By Pearce, 8-0

Fumbles Nix Vikings' Opportunities To Score

By JERRY PRICKETT
Vines High School's Viking sophomore football team lost to the J.J. Pearce Mustang sophomores 8-0 Thursday night at John Clark Field.

Defense controlled the first half with both teams getting only three first downs a piece.

The Mustangs used two of their first downs in the first quarter to make the game's only score. The Pearce score was set up by a low snap on a Vines punt that the Mustangs took advantage of on the Viking 33-yard line.

Six plays later, Pearce was halted on a fourth down with three yards to go at the 15-yard line. The Mustangs made the key first down with an 11-yard gain and scored on a four-yard burst three plays later.

Plano blocked the PAT but an offside's call gave the Mustangs a second chance. The Mustangs ran in their second attempt for an 8-0 lead.

In the second half, Vines' offense opened up but was continually stopped by turnovers and penalties.

The Vikings recovered a fumble immediately at the start of the third quarter. After moving to the 14-yard line, Vines lost five yards on a fumble. After a run and incomplete pass, a 32-yard field goal was no good to nix one of the Vikings best scoring opportunities.

On the next possession by Vines, they drove from their own 35-yard line to the Pearce five, fumbling there. Included in the drive was a 19-yard reverse by end Chuck Best and a key fourth down run by halfback Mike Beeson.

Early in the fourth quarter, Vines threatened again. After getting a Mustang punt at the 13-yard line, the Vikings moved to the Pearce 41 behind the running and passing of quarterback Brett Brittain.

However, the drive was halted when a trick play backfired when a quarterback to flanker to end pass was intercepted by Pearce.

"It was a really disappointing loss," said Viking

Coach Roger Ezell. "We should have won, at least statistically. When you fumble twice inside the five, it is kind of hard."

"The defense played real well," added Coach Ezell. "We were pretty strong on passing also. We need running to get consistency."

No-Hitter Notched As Rangers Win, 6-0

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Throughout Bert Blyleven's career, they've always talked more about his potential of becoming a superstar pitcher rather than his actual accomplishments.

All that may have ended Thursday night, though.

On a night an ailing Blyleven was out on the mound for the sole purpose of bettering his 1977 record, the Dutch-born righthander recorded his first career no-hitter, a 6-0 victory over the California Angels.

"I didn't plan on anything like this," he said. "All I wanted to do was improve my record."

Sidelined since Sept. 6 because of a groin injury, Blyleven faced only 28 batters in pitching the second no-hitter in Ranger history and the third in the major leagues, all in the American League, this season.

"Blyleven has been capable of throwing a no-hitter for a long time," said Bobby Bonds, the Angels power man with 36 home runs and 111 RBI.

"He throws hard, he has a good curve and excellent control. I'm happy for him but I honestly feel he didn't have his best stuff tonight. It seemed like he threw 90 percent curves. We had a lot of innings."

There was a reason for all those curveballs.

Blyleven wasn't 100 percent because of his groin injury.

"I pulled it again in the first inning," he explained, "and then I pulled it real good in the eighth. But I wasn't going to come out. Not with a no-hitter going. I was going to throw underhand first."

"I had two cortisone shots after my last start and I don't know if I'll be able to pitch again this year. But this is a great way to end it."

isn't it?"

"Bert was really hurting out there," said Ranger manager Billy Hunter, "but I told him I wasn't going to take him out until he gave up a hit. Then I was going to get him out of there real fast. I had two guys ready in the bullpen the last couple of innings."

The first two no-hitters this season were recorded by Jim Colborn of the Kansas City Royals and Dennis Eckersley of the Cleveland Indians. Eckersley's no-hitter came against the Angels on Memorial Day at Cleveland when he beat Frank Tanana 1-0.

Jim Bibby pitched the previous Ranger no-hitter in 1973.

It was the fourth no-hitter in the history of Anaheim Stadium, California's home for 12 seasons, and the first against the Angels here.

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Pepped up by a confidence-building 31-24 win over favored Alabama, Nebraska enters Saturday's contest heavily favored over the Baylor Bears who pulled a 21-6 upset of their own on Kentucky last weekend.

Physically, the Cornhuskers, despite their tough confrontation with Alabama, are expected to be in much better shape than the Bears.

Quarterback Tom Sorley, who was sidelined with shoulder miseries after short stints in both of Nebraska's games, is expected to be ready, although he is tabbed as the backup this time to Randy Garcia who played so well against Alabama after relieving Sorley.

Fullback Dodie Donnell is still bothered by a neck injury and his replacement, Keith Steward, is also ailing, leaving the starting fullback chores to Monte Anthony.

Anthony, who trails only Tony Davis as Nebraska's top rusher in the school's history, saw his first action last week after getting a late start in fall camp because of scholastic difficulties.

Plano JV Tied, 3-3

BY BILL LaROE
Thursday night, the Plano Senior High School Junior Varsity football team played host to the J.J. Pearce Mustangs. Both teams played well and neither came out ahead in the end with the score being tied 3-3 at the conclusion of the game.

Pearce had control of the ball offensively for most of the game but never made it to paydirt.

Neither team received more than a penalty each; Pearce receiving one offside penalty and Plano catching a 15-yard personal foul.

Pearce totaled over 200 yards total offense during the game but the Wildcats always stopped their drives before they could score the all-important touchdown.

The Wildcats' offense, behind junior quarterback Joe Simpson, and the running talents of juniors Mason Mitchell, Wes Stover, Ron McMeme and Ricky Gaddis totaled over 150 yards (all on the ground) but were also always stopped short of the end zone.

The Wildcat's defense, led by junior linebacker Joe Simpson, and the running talents of juniors Mason Mitchell, Wes Stover, Ron McMeme and Ricky Gaddis totaled over 150 yards (all on the ground) but were also always stopped short of the end zone.

With time running out, Pearce hit a 35-yard pass to move down to Plano's three yard line. The Wildcat defense held the Mustangs for three plays until time ran out leaving the teams tied 3-3.

Next week the JV Wildcats travel to Sherman to face arch rivals Sherman Bearcats.

Spartan Soccer Teams Win, Lose In Openers

All five teams of the Plano Spartans Football Club opened their regular seasons this week. Some teams took wins while others took losses.

The Spartans Under 12 team lost in its opener to the Plano Strikers, 3-0. The Strikers scored all three of their goals in the first half to down Coach Curtis Moldenhauer's squad. The Under 12 Spartans will play their next game Saturday, Sept. 24 at Crown West Field in Dallas against the North Dallas Flame at 3 p.m.

The Under 14 Spartans also lost in their opener against the Dallas East Gunners, 5-3. The Under 14 Spartans play next Sept. 25 at 3 p.m. at Riley Field in Dallas against the North Dallas Titans 65.

The Under 16 Spartans, who won the Plano Youth Soccer Association championship last year, won their debut 2-1 over the North Dallas Falcons. Coach Bob Morales' Spartans also played Tuesday, Sept. 20 and 1-1 against the Richardson Sparta. The Spartans continue play Saturday, Sept. 24 at Northaven Field in Dallas against the Blue Mustangs at 5 p.m.

Coach Herb Reed's Under 19 Spartans won 3-1 in their opener over Highland Park. The Spartans play again tonight at 6 p.m. at McKinniss Park near Sandy Lake against the North Dallas Texans. The Spartans also have matches slated Sunday, Sept. 25 against the Irving Mayas at March Field in Dallas at 3:30 p.m. and on Tuesday, Sept. 27 at 5:30 p.m. against the Dallas Dynamo at Richland Park.

The Dynamo recently returned from a three-week tour of Holland and Coach Reed expects a tough battle.

The Under 19 girls Spartans played an exhibition against the Plano Tenacious Terrapins Wednesday but results were unavailable at press time. The Spartan girls also play Wednesday, Sept. 28 at Fritz Park in Richardson against the Dallas Sting, who won the state championship last year.

Plano took the second half kickoff and with the aid of a 41-yard gallop by Mitchell, were in good scoring position on the Pearce 16-yard line. The Mustangs held Plano to fourth down and forced them to try for three points.

Junior kicker Hans Mansion was on the mark, and with 7:45 left in the third quarter, Plano was the first on the board with a 3-0 lead. Pearce marched the ball after the kickoff down to the Plano 15 where they were stopped and forced to try a

Raiders Win, 22-Zip

"B" team football players for Bowman Middle School's eighth grade pounded Carrollton Vivian Field Wednesday, 22-0.

The Raiders scored in each of the opening three periods to glide to the victory.

In the first period, quarterback Dervie Balusek connected on a 50-yard pass to flanker Brent Johnson for a touchdown. In the second quarter, halfback Kevin Bush passed to flanker Johnson for a touchdown.

In the third quarter, Balusek carried 12 yards around the end for another touchdown. PATs were added on the first and last touchdown by Earl Brownley and Balusek respectively.

Defensively, the Raiders came up with three interceptions by Steve Morrissey, David Moore and Mark Wright. Jody Pitts and Mike Thompson made several tackles behind the line of scrimmage to maintain the Raider's dominance.

"We were pleased with our improved effort on offense and defense," Coach Glen Lawrence said.

Standouts for the Raiders were Bush, Balusek, Pitts, Browley, Dale McMullen, Gary Johnston, Johnson and John Keidinger.

Defensive standouts were Morrissey, Moore, Wright, Demings, Pitts, Thompson, Johnson, and Craig Blum.
